Statement of Faith by Confirmand Emily Kallio

I have been coming to church here at Immanuel for as long as I can remember. I was baptized when I was just an itty bitty baby, went to Sunday school, got my first communion, and now I am being confirmed! Where has time gone?

When I was younger, every sunday I would come to church and on the days we had to greet, I would always be so shocked how many people knew me! They would all say things like, "It is so nice to see you kids today!" and, "Wow have you grown!" Now I realize that the church community has always encouraged me and been with me every step of the way.

Standing up here right now makes me think back on all of the fun things that have happened to me over the years and how blessed I really am. One vivid memory I have from when I was younger is that every night my sister and I would sit on our beds and our parents would recite the Lord's prayer to us until we had it memorized. Then we did the same with my brother until he memorized the Lord's prayer.

Throughout my whole life, Christ has been with me. From sunrise to sunset, every-single-day. I know that Christ is with me not only through the good times, but also through the bad times. Whenever I feel like giving up or that nothing good is going to happen, I can remember that God has a plan for me and everything happens for a reason.

Christ has been with me and Christ will always be with you too. I want to say thank you to all of you for supporting me and for helping me to be the person I am today. And please remember, the best vitamin for a believer is B1.

Statement of Faith by Confirmand Grace Kallio

I was baptized when I was an infant, attended VBS, confirmation, church camp and have gone to Sunday School and church for as long as I can remember. I specifically remember a time when my cousin, Zander, prayed with me and we asked Jesus Christ to be my personal savior. There was a ski race that I remember God helping me. I was getting down on myself and I took a moment to stop and pray and He told me "you have another race ahead of you so don't get down on yourself, give it all you've got!" There are many times Jesus Christ has helped me feel comforted. When something happens to someone I love or that I am close to, I worry about them a lot and I look to God for peace and comfort.

Fishing For People Is a Political & Spiritual Statement Against Roman Imperial Power.

Luke 5:1-11

Fishing in the first century Palestine was different than fishing in the United States. Peasant fishermen did not enjoy free access to the Sea of Galilee (also called Lake of Gennesaret or Tiberias). The Roman empire and its elite controlled the fishing industry. Herod Antipas, a provincial Roman governor, Romanized the region and put it under Emperor Tiberias's control.¹ Antipas planned to multiply fishes in the waters around Tiberias. He created the fishing industry for commercial export, not local consumption. While the local people depended on fish for their main food, Antipas extracted it for export. Fishing was a costly business because each step of the fishing process was taxed. Fishermen had to get a lease from local brokers, and they had no option but to sell their fish to Antipas' factories that were responsible for exporting fish to all the Roman empire.² As a result, the fishermen became destitute.

Jesus spent most of his ministry in fishing villages like Capernaum, Gennesar, and Magdala because there where "the radicality of Israel's God confronted the normalcy of Rome's civilization under Herod Antipas."³ The story of Jesus inviting fishermen to fish for people is found in Mathew 4:18-22 and Mark 1:16-20. Luke chapter 5 combines the miraculous catch of fish with inviting Peter to fish for people.

We have traditionally understood Jesus' statement, "fish for people," to connote the vocation of "saving souls." However, in prophetic traditions such as Jeremiah (16:6), Amos (4:2), and Ezekiel (29:4), to fish for people implies a divine judgment of God's enemies. Why did Jesus use this metaphor?

According to the Gospel of Mark and Matthew, Jesus called his disciples Peter, Andrew, James, and John, sons of Zebedee, after Herod Antipas beheaded John the Baptist, possibly at his royal palace in Tiberias on the Sea of Galilee's shores.⁴ These fishermen were victims of Herod Antipas, too. This story is not about the disciples changing their vocation from fishing for fish to fishing for people. Still, it is about inviting the disciples to join Jesus in turning Rome's unjust social order and replacing it with God's kingdom.⁵ By providing fish, Jesus demonstrated that he, not Antipas, is in control of the lake.

Jesus called his disciples who were anticipating God's intervention to end the Romans' oppression. Jesus preached the good news about the coming of God's reign to replace the Emperor and Herod Antipas' reign. Jesus "is inviting common folk to join him in his struggle to overturn the existing order of power and privilege."⁶ Will you join him? Niveen

From the Stewardship Committee

Stewardship is a part of all aspects of our lives including the environment, the Church, ourselves and our neighbors. When we hear the word neighbor we are probably inclined to think first about the people living next door to us or down the street or in our entire neighborhood.

However, that is to put a rather strict and limited meaning to the word neighbor. Our fellow human beings are our neighbors whether they live elsewhere in our state, country, continent or our entire world. It matters not what color people are, what language they speak, what kind of clothes they wear or where they live. All people are our neighbors.

And we have multiple ways of being neighbors to them, especially in their times and moments of need. Some examples include the food items we give to The

The Mitten Tree collection, Lutheran Social Services, Lutheran World Relief school and health kits, LIRS, Lutheran Disaster Response, the various charities we support, the quilting ministry of our church, the food we share with our neighbors when there is a death in the family and the list goes on.

IMMANUEL HISTORY –

THE MOTHER'S CLUB

The Immanuel Mothers' Club was organized after World War II as another circle for young mothers. The post war decades saw the birth of the "baby boomers," and there were many new mothers who welcomed a circle that centered on their needs. It also met in the evening, giving them a welcome respite from their daily child care responsibilities. The Mothers' Club promoted the inclusion of a nursery in the first addition to the building and helped organize its equipping. They also took the responsibility for staffing the nursery during Sunday worship services. The group also sponsored yearly Mother-Daughter banquets and a Cradle Roll ceremony. The birth rate declined rapidly in the 1970s, and the Mothers' Club soon ceased to exist. Older members have often remarked on how much the Mothers' Club meant to them and how they formed lasting friendships because of their participation in this organization.

Indeed, some mothers joked that they deliberately had large families so they could have a reason to stay in the Mothers' Club.

- Acolyte bathroom is being turned into storage as the sink/drain doesn't work. Motion made by Rick to remove sink & toilet and turn into storage; 2nd by Patti. Motion carried.
- Shoveling/plowing – the person that used to do this has passed away. We have suggestions of a person to use at $100 per plow. We will negotiate the amounts.

Unfinished Business:

- Replacement for Sally on Properties committee almost identified.
- Sunday School volunteers are still needed. Maggie volunteered and we can always use more.
- Discussed renting the Education wing and forming LLC so that it doesn't have to be to a non-profit organization. We need to keep non-profit to keep our tax-exempt status. We need to discuss legalities. Church council could be the board of directors. Suggested reaching out to Bob Reinertson and Mark Munson for guidance.

New Business: Pastor's religious visa runs out at the end of September and the renewal is being delayed. She will need to step back from her pastoral duties but will continue to volunteer her services. Maggie & Sally will be assisting with sermons and as needed. Will announce to congregation on Sunday and also put notices in the bulletin. The council thanked Maggie & Sally in advance for their assistance.

The next Council meeting will be October 25 at 6:00. Pastor will not be in town but could join via zoom. Meeting adjourned at 7:26 pm. Respectfully submitted, Patti Busche, Secretary
